Spiritually Healing Children's Emotional Wounds

Facilitated by Jan Yordy

M.Ed., MSW, Play Therapist

A therapeutic process sourced in the world of the Spirit that celebrates our children's inherent knowing;
brings life-changing transformations
to their attitudes and behaviours;
and affirms their soul-vision of a perfect world.

Our Children

especially those who are known as Indigo children, are born as pure light channels of the Divine.

They are filled with God's light and love. They still hold eternal and universal knowledge.

The children being born now have a knowing and a vision of a world of joyful and harmonious perfection.

Yet, once here on earth, they are deeply pained by the great dissonance between the perfection they inherently know, and the wildly imperfect world they experience.

While these children are most often described as "extremely bright", "precocious", and "wise beyond their years", in their bewildered anguish, they often "act out" and don't "fit in". They often seem unhappy, angry, depressed and are often diagnosed as learning disabled, hyper-active, or attention-deficient.

Sometimes they are put in special education classes, taken from counselor to therapist, and when all else fails, medicated with drugs.

At the same time, all our children experience emotional woundings, large and small, that come from living life with all its human interactions, with all its triumphs and its tragedies.

Our Indigo children are God's gift to ever-expanding world consciousness. They deserve and need to be healed from their pain to affirm for themselves and for us, the Oneness of the universal soul.

The 17

Almost everyone who tries to help heal our children, does so on a cognitive, intellectual, rational level.

Yet, the woundings to our children's souls are on the emotional, spiritual level. They need to be healed energetically.

There are 17 emotional woundings that can afflict our children.

Left unhealed, these woundings can lead to physical and emotional pain, and antisocial behaviour. At their worst, they can lead to children who do not know the difference between right and wrong; at their very worst, to children without conscience.

To transform negative behaviour, we need to get to the source of the behaviour.

Picture this: if we drain water from a car battery, the car cannot move, because its power source is drained of its charge.

In the same way, if we "drain the energy" from a child's emotional wounding, it no longer has the power to charge, then:

- The wound has no energy
- The child can heal
- The negative behaviour stops
- The flow of light and love is open

Our children's emotional woundings can be spiritually, energetically healed. Our children can be healthy and whole. Then, our children can lead us toward the perfect world they know and envision!

Healing

The way to "drain the energy" from each of the 17 woundings is by playing a little game called YOUMEE - designed for that particular wound.

The YOUMEE healings are for children from 7 to 17 years of age. They are played by the child and one parent or caretaker.

A simple illumination determines which woundings are present and thus, which YOUMEES are to be played.

Each YOUMEE can be played in two or three minutes. A fully facilitated YOUMEE-playing session takes 60-90 minutes.

Spiritual healing is swift!

Parents report significant change in children's attitudes and behaviour as soon as one to four weeks after playing the YOUMEES.

Three months after playing the YOUMEES, parent and child come to play the YOUMEES again. At the second session, parent and child play the YOUMEE games for ALL the remaining woundings - the ones that were not illuminated during the first session.

At the conclusion of this second session, ALL 17 spiritual woundings will have been healed.
